This Will Comply With Wishes of Governor: May Mean El Paso Court.

LEGISLATURE TO RUSH ITS WORK

Austin, Tex., Feb. 6 .- Senator Claude Hudspeth has prepared a bill which will be introduced in the senate next week, carrying out the governor's program regarding the higher courts. The bill is designed to make some sweeping changes as far as the supreme court is concerned.

It takes away much of the jurisdiction of that body and vests in the appellate courts more jurisdiction.

It also seeks to have these appellate courts have jurisdiction over questions of law the same as the supreme court. If this bill passes, governor Colquitt has no objection to the El Paso court bill.

With practically 30 days of the time of the legislature gone, and very little thus far accomplished, a special session seems to be staring the governor and the legislators in the face. Every effort at the command of the governor and those behind the administration is now bent in an attempt to avoid another session. Governor Colquitt is decidedly adverse to calling the lawmakers in an extraordinary session. To Hurry the Work.

With this end in view, announce-ment is made by representative Jeff D. Cox, chairman of the house appropriation committee, that on Monday he will begin the consideration of the general appropriation bill. In order to expedite the task, it has been prac-ifcully decided that the house and senate appropriation committees will sit in joint session and consider the measure jointly. This, it is anticipated, will save at least two weeks' of time. An Innovation.

Heretofore, the house has considered its bill and the senate its measure, and then there would be a difference of $500,000 to $1,000,000 in the two measures and the final result has been the submission of the whole matter to a free conference committee. The plan now is to avoid this free conference committee and have the house and senate committee agree on a measure in the beginning that will be accep-table. All those having matters before this committee can come before the joint meeting and thus save time. Has Petition 21 Feet Long.

The first session of the senate was hel dtoday since last Wednerday. As today is locat nell day no measures of general importance were taken up for Senator Warren sent up a petition 21

Before the house finance committee today attorney general Lightfoot ap senged and made the emphatic statement that he should not be required to governor Colquitt every time he needed some money to conduct his department, and that he should be free to disburse the appropriations made for the department as he saw fit. This statement was made to the committee during the consideration of the bill appropriating $25,000 for the attorney general to enforce the land and other laws. Gov. Colquitt and also been invited to appear before the committee. but his official duties prevented. nimee unanimously reported the bill favorably with the provision that the money shall be disbursed by the attorney general without the advice of

The Race Question. The negro race question bobbed up in the house today during the considera-tion of Cureton's local option compulsory education bill which caused representative Smith, of Atascosa county, quote Thomas Dixon by saying that the "only way to elevate the negro was with the toe of a boot." On an amendment, which was offered by Dotson inserting "the grandfather clause" in the law, is that the law shall not apply to persons not en-franchised since 1860, it was claimed that this would make the bill unconstirutional and while the discussion was still in progress, the house cocessed. There seems to be a decided op-position to having the law apply to

BURGES FAVORS HUDSPETH'S BILL

To, Exempt Irrigation Companies From Charter Fees and Franchise

Taxes. Austin Tex., Feb. 6 .- Senator Hudspeth today introduced a bill in the senate exempting irrigation and reclamation companies from charter fees and franchise taxes. This bill is highly favored by A. R. Burges, of El Paso, who is here to see that such a measure as that introduced by Hudspeth becomes a law. Mr. Burges does not want any laws passed that will interfere with the building of the lephant Butte dam near El Paso. He will remain here for some time in the interest of Hudspeth's bill.

MEN MAY FLY OVER TO MEXICO

A special telegram from manager P. L. Young this morning advises that the aviators with their big special train of flying machines, will leave San Antonio tonight and are due to arrive in El Paso tomorrow afternoon Arrangements have been made to place the cars on the tracks opposite the Stanton street station and the mechanicians will immediately start rigging up the flying machines for the opening date at Washington Park Thurs-

While the executive committee has not yet announced the program, it is under-stood that, following the precedent es-tablished at San Antonio, they will to-day confer with Col. Sharpe, commanding at Fort Bliss, with a view to arranging practical demonstration of the aero plane as an army asset in actual warplane as an active asset in account was fare. The program at San Antonio inciuded a scout by the birdmen in an endeavor to locate a troop of artillery served some distance from the aviation field, when they were located by the flying men, the artillery limbered their crimance and dashed onto the infield, where they intrenched themselves arded the aeroplanes with blank cartridoes.

The maneuvers were so satisfactors and demonstrated so thoroughly the efficiency of the acrophane as an asset of war, that the general commanding Fort Sam Houston communicated with Washington, D. C., by wire and the birdmen of the army, it is understood, have been ordered to hold themselves in readiness to proceed to El Paso to take notes of

The committee that has this military program in charge includes J. F. Wilf-iams, Bert Orndonff, H. S. Potter, Thomas O'Keefe and J. C. Wilmarth. J. M. Wyatt, of the reception committee, also reports that a number of re-ceptions are being planned in honor of the event, and that society will have a band in the program.

Julius Krakaver is authority for the statement that all details looking to the complete success of the flights locally have been executed, and A. W. Reeves, who has charge of the transfer of t who has charge of the transportation facilities, says that the car service to Washington Park will excel anything ever attempted by the local traction company. He says reports from the out-side towns show wonderful interest in the coming meet and everything points to a successful five days Fere de Aviation.
